About Child Abuse Prevention Month

April is National Child Abuse Prevention Month, a time dedicated to raising awareness and preventing child abuse and neglect, with organizations and communities working together to support families and children.

It's estimated that 95% of child sexual abuse is preventable through education and awareness. Ninety. Five. Percent. By joining our voices together in advocacy throughout the month of April, you are:

- Building safe and stable communities that are informed, empowered, and safer for children.
- Reducing the stigma that surrounds a difficult subject and creating space for survivors to be believed and supported.
- Raising awareness of the Child Protection Center (or your own local Child Advocacy Center) and the vital services and resources that are available to the community, including FREE Personal Safety workshops for children and adults.

Meaning Behind the Pinwheel

In 2008, Prevent Child Abuse America introduced the Pinwheels for Prevention campaign. "People respond positively to pinwheels, which represent childlike whimsy and lightheartedness and our vision for a world where all children grow up happy, healthy, and prepared to succeed in supportive families and communities."

The pinwheel is a visual reminder of what we want for all childrento experience the simple joys of a SAFE and HAPPY childhood.

VISION: CPC envisions a community in which all children are safe from abuse and free to thrive.

PREVENTION

Personal Safety and Community Awareness Program (PSCA):

PSCA has been providing essential child abuse prevention education at no cost to children, parents, and professionals in Sarasota County since 1992. It is the longest tenured prevention program in Florida and has served over 800,000 individuals in its 30+ years. Research shows that child abuse can be prevented through empowering education and awareness. In order to create stronger safety nets around our community's children, we emphasize the importance of having power in prevention!

INTERVENTION

Children and Families Supervised Visitation Program (CFSVP):

Our Visitation Program provides a safe, neutral environment for children to maintain a relationship with a non-custodial caregiver, through the watchful eye of a highly trained volunteer. The overall goal is to foster healthy relationships, as research proves this connection improves overall well-being and stability for a child. Over 50 Sarasota County citizens serve as CFSVP volunteers.

Child Protection Team (CPT):

CPT is a state-mandated program working alongside the Department of Children and Families and law enforcement in cases of suspected abuse and neglect. CPT evaluates allegations of abuse and provides recommendations for interventions to protect children. This devoted team facilitates critically important forensic interviews, medical examinations, and often testifies on behalf of a child in court. CPT is the only provider authorized by the state to perform these functions in Sarasota and DeSoto Counties.

"CPT approaches the children we treat with care and compassion WHILE SHOWING THE HIGHEST LEVEL OF PROFESSIONALISM." -Pediatric SANE Certified Nurse 3,309

TREATMENT

Therapy Programs:

CPC's Therapy Programs serve children who have been physically and sexually abused, children exhibiting problematic sexual behaviors, the victim's non-offending caregiver and siblings, and adult survivors of child abuse. The overall goal is to provide services that afford survivors to live a healthy, restored life after their traumas. We are the only provider in Sarasota County specialized in child physical and sexual abuse treatments, free of charge.

How Can I Make a Difference?

FINANCIAL SUPPORT

Donating to the Child Protection Center directly supports the prevention, intervention, and treatment of child abuse in Sarasota and DeSoto Counties. You may not be in the medical room, therapy room, supervised visit, courtroom, or classroom workshop, but these things would never happen without you.

Make your gift by clicking here.

Send a Ripple of Hope with a matched monthly donation:

Your personal donation of $5-$500 may be eligible for matching funds through the Louis and Gloria Flanzer Philanthropic Trust, doubling your impact to CPC and the fight against child abuse! Why give monthly?

- ✓ CREATE LASTING CHANGE! Your ongoing contribution powers long-term advocacy and healing. Your gifts will make a difference for children every day, all year long.
- ✓ IT'S EASY & FLEXIBLE! Payments are automated and can be adjusted at any time. There is no long-term obligation.

Set up your matched monthly gift by clicking here.

Create a Facebook Fundraiser:

By creating a Facebook fundraiser, you're multiplying your impact by bringing the campaign to the attention of your friends and family. This means that not only are you raising essential funding for child abuse services, but you're spreading awareness of abuse and our mission, which in turn brings even more children to safety. Here's how:

- Click here to set up your fundraiser.
- ✓ Share your fundraiser and encourage your friends to donate. Use the sample posts below to help you share your fundraiser and gather support.

Sample Facebook Posts:

This #ChildAbusePreventionMonth, I'm taking a stand against child abuse by launching this fundraiser in support of @ChildProtectionCenter and the life-saving services they provide. Last year alone, this nonprofit conducted 305 medical exams for children to assess signs of abuse and neglect, provided over 4,000 hours of therapy to survivors, and reached 63,770 local children and adults with prevention education. I hope you'll join me in the fight against child abuse by giving any gift you're able to.

I believe that every child has a right to safety, a right to joy, and a right to simply be a child. You can help provide life-saving services for children who have suffered abuse. Will you join me in support of @ChildProtectionCenter and give the gift of healing this #ChildAbusePreventionMonth?

2 SPREAD AWARENESS

Go #BlueForKids for #WearBlueDay Friday, April 4:

Blue is the color for child abuse prevention. Join us in spreading awareness for #WearBlueDay on Friday, April 4th by going #BlueForKids! Share your commitment with family, friends, and coworkers and encourage them to join you in wearing blue, take a pic, tag CPC, and use the hashtags! (For extra fun, if you tag CPC or email your pics to shannonm@cpcsarasota.org, we just might feature you in a #BlueForKids wrap-up video at the end of April!)

Missed the 4th? No worries-you can raise awareness and share #BlueForKids pics all month long!

Plant a pinwheel garden:

Blue pinwheels are the symbol for Child Abuse Prevention Month. Plant a pinwheel garden at your home or business. Don't have the space for a full pinwheel garden? Plant a mini garden in a pot to place by your mailbox, front door, desk, or lobby.

Spread the word online:

Inspire others by sharing about Child Abuse Prevention Month online. We have numerous graphics ready to be shared-save the ones you like and share throughout the month with the hashtags #ChildAbusePreventionMonth and #WhyICPC.

Reach out to local businesses:

Local businesses play a vital role in funding our mission and spreading awareness. Here are some ideas on how a business can get involved:

- Host a give-back day, devoting a percentage of profits to a donation
- Planting a pinwheel garden or pot to raise awareness
- Have staff wear blue and share their #BlueForKids photos
- Host a donation drive for art supplies, children's books/games, diapers, etc.
- Donate gift cards to be used for fundraising activities

3 VOLUNTEER

Volunteer Day, held at CPC on the 3rd Thursday of each month:

CPC is busier than ever and we need your help. Our goal is to further connect you to our mission, give you a behind-the-scenes look into what we do, and to tackle our ever-growing to-do-list.

Child Abuse Statistics

ONE IN TEN children will be sexually abused.

In Florida, a child is abused every 23 minutes. That's over 62 children every day.

of children who are victims of child sexual abuse know their abuser.

ONE IN FIVE children are solicited online.

60% of child sexual abuse victims never tell anyone.

Nearly 70% of all reported sexual assaults occur to children aged 17 and under.

Up to 40% of children who are sexually abused are abused by older, or more powerful children.

Of children who are sexually abused, 20% suffer their abuse before age 8.

School personnel are the #1 reporters of child abuse, identifying over 50% of child abuse cases.

Children and young adults who have survived child sexual abuse are 4χ as likely to make plans of suicide.

Recognize the Warning Signs

Signs of Child Abuse

The signs of child abuse are often seen in behavioral changes, such as:

Aggressiveness, passiveness, withdrawal, sexually inappropriate behaviors or knowledge, use of alcohol or drugs at an early age or other risky behaviors, avoiding time spent in their home, difficulty concentrating in school or have excessive absences, and acting abnormally adult or infantile.

Direct physical signs of abuse are not always common, but can include:

Unexplained bruises or welts in various stages of healing, burns, fractures, bleeding, consistent hunger, poor hygiene, fatigue, and difficulty walking or sitting.

Victims of child abuse often show indirect physical signs, such as:

Anxiety, changes in eating or sleeping patterns, chronic stomach pains, nightmares, and bedwetting.

How to Make a Report

Report Suspected Child Abuse

In Florida, EVERYONE is a mandatory reporter. Any person who knows, or has reasonable cause to suspect, that a child is abused, abandoned, or neglected, is MANDATED BY LAW to place a report.

Florida Abuse Hotline: 1-800-96-ABUSE (1-800-962-2873)

* Available 24/7

This toll free number is available 24 hours a day, seven days a week with counselors waiting to help you.

If you see something, if you hear something, if you suspect something- report it. Don't wait for someone else to speak up- it could mean the life of a child. Many reporters find it helpful to organize their thoughts and information by writing it out before calling the hotline. If a child is in immediate danger, call 911.

How to Report Online Child Sexual Abuse Material (CSAM)

If/when we come across child sexual abuse material (CSAM- also known as child pornography) accidentally online, often our first instinct is to exit out of the video or image and try to forget seeing the upsetting content. The issue with this is that the child in the content is not being helped. We urge you to report it to the platform itself, local abuse hotlines (if location is known), and the CyberTipline. The Tipline also accepts reports of: online enticement of a child for sexual acts; child sex trafficking; misleading domain name; unsolicited obscene material sent to a child.

Cyber Tipline

A Child Has Directly Disclosed Abuse to You-Now What?

When a child discloses abuse, they are seeking support and safety from someone they trust.

- Remain calm and listen patiently
- Reassure them that they're doing the right thing by telling you
- Ask open ended questions- "Tell me about that/Is there anything else you'd like to tell me?"
- As quickly as possible, call the Florida Abuse Hotline (1-800-962-2873) to file a report.

While this is an extremely difficult conversation to have, it is important to refrain from:

- Overwhelming the child with questions
- Confronting the offender
- Disregarding the child

Reacting dramatically

"You are brave for telling me."

alone."

"This was not your fault."

Practicing Personal Safety With Your Child

General safety practices for families with children of any age:

- Talk to your child about personal safety often, just as you would for 'Stop, Drop, and Roll.'
- Help your child develop an appropriate vocabulary for the parts of their body.
- Help your child develop confidence and assertiveness skills. Give your child permission to be ugly and impolite if they are uncomfortable.
- Never force your child to hug or kiss anyone, even relatives. Support when they say 'No.'

Teaching children about body safety doesn't take away their innocence, it helps to PROTECT it.

Instead of this...

"Grandma will be sad if you don't give her a hug goodbye."

Keep tickling or roughhousing if they act uncertain or say stop.

Standing by if they're not listening to someone else's "No."

When we do this...

Give them the choice of how to connectable a hug, a wave, a fist bump, etc.

Let them know they can say "No" or "Stop" to tickling, hugs, roughhousing, etc.

Point out and help your child recognize when others have set a boundary.

Try this!

"It's time to say bye to Grandma. Would you like to give her a hug or a wave?"

Check in and ask "Do you like that? Is this fun? You can say stop." If they say no or to stop, stop.

"Does Bobby want to keep playing with your new toy? I heard him say 'no."

Kids learn this!

I get to decide if I touch someone. I don't have to do something that makes me feel uncomfortable.

I get to choose if someone touches me.

When someone else isn't having fun or doesn't like something I'm doing, I listen and stop right away.

What to say to family/friends who insist on hugs/kisses:

"We're teaching Megan about body boundaries and using her voice to let people know when she doesn't want to be touched, kissed, or hugged. Megan, if you don't want to give Grandpa a hug, that's okay. Would you like to wave or give a fist bump instead?"

"As Patrick's family and friends, we are his 'safe people.' We want Patrick to practice and feel comfortable saying no to the safe people in his life so he will feel empowered to say no when he's with an unsafe person."

Helping kids understand secrets vs. surprises:

Surprises: Something that should be fun, happy, and temporary. There is an end date and the surprise is meant to make someone happy or excited.

Secrets: Something that is supposed to be kept hidden forever. Explain that it is never okay for someone to tell you not to tell your parents and that they will never be in trouble for breaking a secret or promise when it makes them uncomfortable or involves unsafe touch.

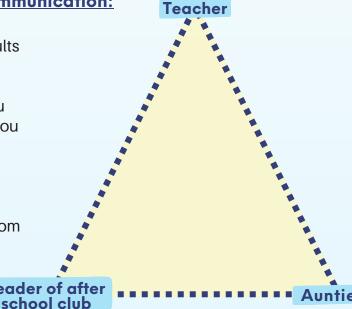

- Helping mom surprise dad with a birthday party
- Surprising grandparents with a family visit
- A classmate is being a bully and threatening anyone who tells the teacher
- Someone takes a picture of you and asks you not to tell

Creating a safety net for communication:

Help your child identify three (or more!) trusted adults they know they can talk to about anything without being afraid of getting into trouble. If you ever feel unsafe, uncomfortable, or if someone is making you promise to keep secrets from parents or teachers, you should go talk to your trusted adults- and to keep telling until you've been helped and feel safe and secure.

We recommend having your child choose adults from different parts of their life/locations (school, church, dance class, neighbor, family member, etc.)

Internet Safety

General safe internet habits to teach your children:

- Never share personal information (address, name, where you go to school).
- Talk with your child about the difference between a friend and a stranger. Someone you only know online is a stranger. Remember that a person may pretend to be someone different online.
- Always use kind words and report anyone who is acting mean or being a bully.
- Always tell a trusted adult if anyone or anything makes you uncomfortable.
- Never agree to meet anyone you've met online in person.

Questions to address before downloading a new app for your child:

Is the content of the app age appropriate? Who does this app connect my child with? What parental controls does the app offer? What is the app teaching my child? Does my child know the risks of using this app?

Coping Resources and Tools

The best way to teach our children how to cope with negative or overwhelming emotions in a healthy way is to model healthy coping skills or support them in co-regulation. We want children to know it's okay to feel angry, sad, or overwhelmed, but we want them to have resources on how to regulate those tough emotions and express them in a way that's safe for everyone.

Phrases for caregivers to try when you're feeling angry with/around children and need to regulate:

"I'm feeling overwhelmed. I need to step away and give my body time to find its calm. I'm setting my alarm for 5 minutes and then we can come back to our conversation."

"I need to take a few minutes to calm down before we keep trying to figure this out. It's hard for me to think clearly when I'm angry, so give me a little time."

"I'm feeling really upset. My coffee spilled on my laptop. I'm going to take a few deep breaths to help myself feel better."

Safe ways to regulate yourself when overstimulated:

- Taking space
- Writing your feelings down
- Listening to music
- Meditating

Change of temperature (take a warm or cold shower)

3-3-3 when you're feeling anxious:

- Look around and focus on three things you can see.
 - Next, name three things that you can hear.
 - Finally, move three parts of your body.
 - When you're done, take three deep breaths.
